

The policies you are implementing remind me of the movie "Highlander:" There can be only one. I thought the American dream was built on hearing many diverse voices, not just that of one or two big corporations.

Please allow us the opportunity to continue to hear, read, and view a variety of viewpoints, and not just one.